To whom it may concern,

I have known Heath Kelly for approximately 10 years and I can attest to his honesty and trustworthiness. When it came time to choose someone to build my home not knowing or having seen any of Heath's work wasn't a problem. I knew of his experience and the type of person he is. He is a man that stands behind his word. After seeing his work and his attention to quality there was no doubt that I made the right choice.

I'm sure there are many builder's in Pensacola that builds quality custom homes. When choosing Heath Kelly Construction there is no doubt that you will get exactly that. But, more importantly, when choosing Heath Kelly you get someone that you can trust to do things the right way and with your best interest in mind.

Sincerely,

Stephen Newsome
